Connecting to Your PC

Most users want to synchronize the MobilePro 800 with a desktop or notebook computer. In this mode, the MobilePro is a companion PC. The latest work done on either the MobilePro or the desktop automatically appears on both machines, once the synchronization process occurs. The following section provides an overview of the synchronization process. For detailed instructions, see Chapter 1 of the NEC MobilePro 800 User's Guide.

To configure your MobilePro for synchronization you must do the following:

- Verify the accuracy of the PC Connection default settings on your MobilePro.
- Ensure the availability of the serial port on your desktop or notebook computer.
- Install Windows CE Services on your desktop or notebook computer.
- Connect the PC Connect cable to your desktop or notebook computer and to your MobilePro.
- Create a partnership between your desktop or notebook computer and your MobilePro.
- Verify that the desired synchronization services are configured.

Windows CE services automatically synchronizes your MobilePro with your PC's Microsoft Outlook™ or Schedule+ email, contacts, calendar, and task list each time you attach the PC Connect cable. (The MobilePro bonus software CD also includes software for synchronizing with other PC applications.)

You can also transfer files to and from the MobilePro by dragging them in and out of the Mobile Devices folder that Windows CE Services creates on your desktop PC.

Setting Up a Remote Connection

In addition to using your MobilePro as a companion PC, when you travel you can connect by modem directly to an Internet service provider, or a network remote access server, to get email and to view web pages.

Refer to Chapter 5 of the user's guide, "Setting Up a Remote Connection" or the MobilePro's online help file (click the MobilePro Help icon on the MobilePro desktop screen) for details.
